About Nuit Blanche

Nuit Blanche Winnipeg is an all-night exploration and celebration of contemporary art. It is produced by the Winnipeg Arts Council and Culture Days Manitoba, and is part of the annual Culture Days weekend.

Since 2010, the free events, exhibits and interactive installations have attracted thousands of people to NBW’s three main zones – Saint Boniface, Downtown and the Exchange District.

In addition to its fixed exhibits and installations, NBWPG also features travelling tours and performances. This year, we have more activities than ever, spread across the different neighbourhoods of Winnipeg, including West Broadway, West End and the North End.

Starting at 6 p.m. on Saturday, September 30 and running until 4 a.m. Sunday, October 1, the streets of Winnipeg will be transformed by two feature installations, along with works by the thirteen artists selected in our two Open Calls and by over 100+ independent events that will take over galleries, businesses, rooftops, patios, alleyways, parking lots and more.

All events are FREE, and members of the public are encouraged to celebrate arts and culture in our community.

Message from Co-Chairs

Art’s one night stand. A night where the city centre lights up with the inspiration, talent, and street life we know Winnipeg has within it.

Each year, it’s been a thrill to watch Nuit Blanche grow and the city and its arts community embrace it. This year is no exception as we welcome emerging, local and visiting artists, who transform everything from galleries and businesses to blank walls and parking lots into works of art that engage and inspire us.

Thank you to all the supporters who make this night possible – sponsors and partners, artists, venues, and eventgoers. It could not happen without you.

It’s our honour to be a part of this event and we can’t wait to join you there.

Monica Lowe, Chair
Signy Gerrard, Co-Chair

Nuit Blanche Winnipeg is excited to present two engaging and interactive art installations: Khan Lee’s Red Green and Blue and Le Nuit Blanche Rendezvous. We invite you to explore your own emotions and thoughts as you view them. Use the hashtag #NBWpg to share your reactions to each of the pieces.

Cette année, nous sommes fiers de mettre en vedette deux et installations à la fois engageantes et interactives : Red, Green and Blue par Khan Lee et le Nuit Blanche Rendezvous. Nous vous invitons à explorer vos propres émotions et pensées lors de votre visite. Utilisez le hashtag #NBWpg afin de partager vos réactions envers chaque arrangement artistique.
Vancouver-based, South Korean artist, Khan Lee, presents his interactive sculptural installation. The installation uses filtered light to animate nature and references horizon lines and landscape art. Walk on water, play in light and immerse yourself in Nuit Blanche Winnipeg’s feature art installation of 2017 presented by the Winnipeg Arts Council.

Join us in the heart of downtown, for a full-tilt celebration at Le Nuit Blanche Rendezvous! Through a collaboration with Wall-to-Wall Mural and Culture Festival, the site will be activated by a new work of contemporary street art on the side of the Civic Centre Parkade and a large-scale, multi-projector video mapping project created by Jaymez Jansen, which will breathe life into the brutalist architecture of the old Public Safety Building. A new pop-up architectural work by local collective InTheMiddle will literally set the stage for DJ sets by Rhayne Vermette, AOKS, and Boogey The Beat, as well as for illuminating drag performances by your favourite Sunshine House Queens. Come bike, come look, come dance, come party. All your friends and loads of new ones will meet you at Le Nuit Blanche Rendezvous!

Every year, we hold two Open Calls. This year the jury selected thirteen phenomenal projects proposed by Manitoba and Canadian artists. We invite you to engage with the work and the artists and begin a conversation about contemporary art. Thanks to the Winnipeg Arts Council, our Producing Partner, the Illuminate the Night artists each receive an honorarium of $2000 to showcase their work. The Emerging Voices artists receive an honorarium of $500 and one of them will be awarded a $2000 prize on the night of Nuit Blanche. The Open Calls for NBW2018 will launch in October 2017.

Dominion: 16 Trajectories by Lawrence Bird

Dominion: 16 Trajectories by Lawrence Bird, a Winnipeg-based urban designer, architect, and visual artist, will project satellite images harvested from 16 trajectories across the prairie landscape. The images are projection-mapped, with accompanying audio, and explore how we have demarcated and divided the prairies for colonization and profit – yet the prairies (and their image) fight back.

floating by Hee-Jung Shin

floating reflects the emotional experience that occurs in response to feelings of cultural and social displacement. Seventy-two hand-sewn handbags made of mulberry paper are placed in rows on a wall. Projected on them is a video of an origami paper boat, isolated and floating in a body of water. The handbag is an everyday object that is easily overlooked. It serves as a general metaphor of the identity which people carry. In contrast, the origami paper boat, a culturally familiar object, represents the artist’s own identity interacting with a new environment. As the paper boat floats, it gradually absorbs the water, conforming to its surroundings. As a result, the boat is dissolving.

Homes by PelmuSnowbird
This project is a collaborative interactive video installation in which the public can immerse themselves into two landscapes; Kristin Snowbird’s birthplace of Pine Creek, MB and Theo Pelmus’ home of Romania. The work is made up of two projections recreated through the artists’ memory and words. The projection will consist of the landscapes from each home, with photos and words in Ojibwe/Salteaux and Romanian language. Two spaces are created, an Indigenous one and a Romanian one. As the two spaces switch there will be words said in each others’ language: Ojibwe/Saulteaux and Romanian. The projections will act as the translation of these words.

Insomnia by Antiscian Productions
Insomnia is a movement based performance piece that explores the relationship between sleep and restlessness. It is inspired by the secrets hidden in the darkness, the only time when we are in a state of unknowing. When we sleep we are unaware of ourselves and our surroundings. Even those who suffer from insomnia often experience a warped perspective of consciousness which is clouded by exhaustion and frustration. The performance will capture the unconscious moments of body twitches, tosses and turns, and restless fits that many people experience in the late hours of the night. Audiences are invited to come and go as they please.

Keep Me Awake – A Storytelling Shuttle Service by Peg City Car Co-Op
On buses, commuters overshare to lighten their load. In taxis, strangers let details of their day out of their mouths like fireflies: in bright, short bursts. On airplanes, passengers confide their fears, shining light into the darkness. On long road trips, the night driver asks a favour: “Tell me a story to keep me awake.” A storyteller will travel with the patrons, sharing a ride, and a story, to transport the body and the mind in two directions at once.

The Light Within The Tunnel
by Madeline Rae and Talia Shaaked
Regardless of one’s individual life, there are material and immaterial elements of being human that we all share: sense, movement, sound, emotion and thought. Talia Shaaked and Madeline Rae invite you to experience The Light Within the Tunnel. Traverse this alternate passageway of the exchange: comprised of two curtain-walls made of string and projected video. After watching the video, the audience is invited to pass through and interact with the wall of string. Experience the fluid physicality of the curtain barriers, and bathe in the glow of the projected video.

Mapping People
by Julie Cosgrove and Riaz Mehmood
Mapping People is a new media interactive installation. Viewers trigger a triangulated map through their presence in space, generating a projection of a real-time drawing that is continually evolving. This installation aims to engage imagined and real space through movement, and explores the potential for exchanges and new experiences.

Overshadow 1 by Lyla Rye
Inspired by the space-age design and utopian aspirations of the 1970’s, Overshadow, by Toronto artist Lyla Rye, re-imagines an iconic geodesic dome as a planet in a strange eclipse. The illusion created obscures this vision of the future with images of contemporary life shot by the artist’s teenage daughter. By simultaneously generating and exposing how the eclipse illusion is created, the video reflects on generations of human experience.

Riot Resist Revolt Redux by Frances Koncan by Vault Projects
When the water is too polluted to drink, and the air is impossible to breathe, how will we go on? We have created stars to replace the stars we can no longer see… but what happens when even they are no longer enough to sustain us? A companion piece to the play, “Riot Resist Revolt Repeat” by Frances Koncan, Riot Resist Revolt Redux is a deeper exploration of the Indigenous and European mythology surrounding the creation of our world, and the relationship between humankind and the planet upon which we live. A half-hour sensory journey through the diverse landscapes of human existence and hidden corners of human consciousness.

Emerging Voices 2017
Voix émergentes

During Nuit Blanche, a jury of art professionals will tour the three Emerging Voices exhibitions and projects, and award a $2,000 first place prize. The prize is generously sponsored by Winnipeg artist Jeff Funnell. As Jeff so eloquently says, “there are no losers in art.”

Durant Nuit Blanche, un jury visitera les trois projets de Voix émergentes et le(la) gagnant(e) recevra un prix de 2000$. Le prix a été généreusement offert par Jeff Funnell, un artiste de Winnipeg. Comme Jeff le dit avec éloquence, “il n’y a pas de perdants dans l’art”.

PEG by Meighan Giesbrecht and Tia Watson
PEG is an interactive art piece that allows those who discover it to both, alter its appearance, as well as keep a small portion of the installation as a souvenir. Visitors will be presented with a map of Winnipeg, where they can remove a small peg from a location that resonates with them. Upon removal of this peg, the piece will become illuminated with light, inviting the visitor to leave behind a memory. Each peg is designed to fit on a keychain and becomes a small memento to provide a memory of the evening.

Rattling Change by OliveUs Collective
“There was music playing in the air, and the energy of the night felt so alive that she started to dance. As she danced, she looked out the window to the bustling streets of Winnipeg, and she saw that a crowd had gathered below to watch her and share in her impromptu celebration of the night.” We dreamt of having a celebration in our apartment, but with the whole city! Pretty lights, wispy fabrics, chocolate cake, quiet conversations in corners, and the feeling that anything can happen. Join us in the McKim Building for our creation of dance, music, theatre and art. We want to feel the night change us, and for you to share in that too.

What makes Nuit Blanche Winnipeg special is how organic it feels for those who attend, and how the entire community comes together, chipping in to make it bigger and better every year. The majority of NBW events are independently organized and hosted by cultural institutions, artists, musicians, businesses and performers. This year is a record breaking year but luckily you have all night to explore!

Ce qui fait Nuit Blanche Winnipeg une expérience spéciale, est le sentiment organique que l’événement procure à ceux qui y prennent part, ainsi que la façon dont toute la communauté se réunit et fait sa part afin de rendre l’événement plus grandiose et plus réussi que l’année précédente. La majorité des activités de NBW sont organisées indépendamment, et hébergées par des institutions culturelles ainsi que des artistes, musiciens, entreprises et interprètes individuels. Cette année, il y a plus d’événements que jamais – une chance que vous aurez toute la nuit !
